Finding the right guy takes time, like any other good thing

We cannot tell how long we have to wait, we cannot tell what it will take...

though we definately can tell that when we meet him it would be worth every second spent looking and waiting for him to come to our lives.

:silly: I agree with the guy below me, like right now im chatting it up w/ 4 guys that are all really different a fun in their own ways, like all good things stuff takes time. Patience is crucial. Once you have finally found that person, all of the get to know you, how's your day going type stuff : will all be worth it. :huh:

well...just wait until the right one comes along. If you are looking for love that is. If you just want a hook up then just put yourself out there :laugh:

Not All that it is cut out to be, no really, you might think that you want to have someone but in the end sometimes they are a compleatly differant person from what you had thought, sadly this is comeing from someone who just got dumped on his birthday, and for one of his friends who is 15 with a girlfriend:S so i cant give the best advice, but i feel robed of three years... TBH just wait and you will get someone and when you do i suggest being careful not to rush anything, lol. Not that I should be giving THAT advice, i MADE that mistake! oh well later peeps! x

When you stop wanting so much, that is when the proper boy shall walk right into your arms. Hopefully for you, he likes boys too.
