
Wat shld i do..?

Posted by PerfectLie - 2008/03/04 05:57

Well i've started comin out to a few of my friends as i felt comfortable and trusted them, but not long after i told one of my friends i was gay a rumour started about me bein gay. I just shrugged it off but then peeps were tkin bout it behind my back even friends tht i've known since primary and who were my best friends! i confronted them and they said they heard it and sed it wernt true nd tht they would tell peeps tht 2. things were goin gr8 as far as skwl life goes anyway.. then this boi asked me if i was gay and he also mentioned me kissin my bf(at the time) coz my (ex) best friend told him tht i was! sorted tht out anyway, coz of all this i've been thinkin bout comin out to all. wat do u think i shld do..?

listen ppl will talk i mean for 3 years b4 i came out there were rumours about me being gay and i hadnt told any1 but i have to say once i told every1 i felt alot free-er(is that as word?) but its totally your choice as long as you dont want people to know all it will be is specualtion so relax just do what you want k?

hope it works out

hmmm.

if you're ready for everyone to know, then yeah, just come out.
if not, then don't.

like, even if you're a bit scared to tell, maybe it's better that you wait until you're completely ready.
there's really nothing to rush about.

and just ignore the rumors being spread, everyone gets stuff spread about them, so try not to pay too much attention to it, just kind of blow it off.
